Better Breakfasts

Better breakfasts mean better days—and that's the sort of days we need. He may be the angelic sort of husband who will eat toast and eggs and the usual breakfast menu without saying a word—but anyway, try him on corn cakes and bacon with fish and then listen to the words he'll say. He may even feel so good around noontime that he'll call up and say "Let's go to that nice little place you like for dinner." Our menu suggestion is cool, colorful and delicious.

Chilled Mixed Fruit Juices
Ready-to-Eat Cereal with Cream
Small Sautéed Fish (Trout or Butterfish) with Bacon Strips
Spider Corn Cake Coffee

Chilled Mixed Fruit Juices: Combine the following ice cold ingredients and serve in small cocktail glasses or in glass cups: contents of one 12-ounce can of pineapple juice, contents of one 10-ounce can of grapefruit juice, one-fourth cup orange juice, two tablespoons fresh lime juice and one tablespoon sugar.*

Frenchman Would Show Toe-Dancing Fleas Here

Paris, France.—The flea-tamer, Jean Rochet, who has presented his performing fleas at fairs all over France, was preparing his troupe recently for a forthcoming visit to the United States, provided he can get it through immigration and quarantine stations.

Rochet has devoted a lifetime to the study of fleas, teaching them tricks of toe dancing, gymnastics and juggling.

"Each one is trained according to his particular character and temperament," said Rochet. "When first caught, each one is tied with a fine strand of golden wire, which is fixed with the aid of a microscope. This prevents the flea from escaping, since he can only jump a certain distance owing to the weight of the golden wire.

"The fleas begin to show propensities for either dancing, juggling or 'strong-man' feats and these qualities are developed carefully over a period of weeks.

"They get to know me soon and are extremely obedient. They can even be taught to respond to the dinner gong. I prefer the male flea because he is more conscientious."

RHEUMATIC FEVER TRACED TO TEETH

Scientist Tells of Tests Made on Animals.

Philadelphia.—Jefferson Medical college has just completed experiments tending to prove definitely that rheumatic fever is the direct results of focal infections, such as infected teeth and tonsils.

This was achieved by managing for the first time to produce satisfactory infections artificially in animals and studying the immediate and subsequent results.

Dr. Virgil Holland Moon of the college laboratory announced the results and explained the methods of these experiments at clinical sessions in the amphitheater of Jefferson hospital, arranged by and for ex-internes of the institution.

He said that previous efforts at artificially inducing chronic focal infections in experimental animals had failed because the viruses used had been introduced under the skin by injection.

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C.H.R.

School teachers had brooms, chalk and contracts handed to them at the auditorium here this morning, and tomorrow John, Helen and Alice will hie away to the class room. The contracts call for 10% salary reduction and guarantee of only an eight-month term. So give your teachers and superintendent a break this year and work with them. Bon Voyage!

* * *

Well folks, Father Darkleaf has been in your midst exactly one year. One year ago today I trooped to town, hung up my hat and rolled up my sleeves.

* * *

Since then I've slung a b c's no end and wrought generally for a place in the sun.

* * *

You've treated me well and made me feel sorta 'at home' so now I'm just one of you. I'll doubtless be here when the cows come home.

* * *

What with being head usher at the Baptist church and editor of the best newspaper in the county, I fell like an institution, inpregnable and indefatible.

* * *

Those last are two of my best words.

* * *

But, seriously, I wish to thank you for the start you have given me this first year and pledge you all I've got to make Appomattox and Buckingham "bigger and better."

* * *

I like this section. It's real "Virginianish." I like the town. It has a future. I like you, gentle readers, because your hearts are big and your souls are noble.

* * *

Father Darkleaf is human. Sometime I feel discouraged about Appomattox and I gather myself in my editorial chair and concoct an ensemble of carpings and chicanery. Then I get ironed out and call Appomatatox the dimple on the cheek of nature. Maybe its the difference between red ink and blue. But, after all is said and done I've all for you, our town and section and so long as this journalistic quill shall scribble it shall boost and promote what is believes is progress.

* * *

And now school opens. Didya know Miss Wincie Davis, of Farmville, is said to be the first public school teacher in this town, with school behind what is now Reynold's store?

* * *

Or didya know the post-office was onct near the present clerk's office?

* * *

Uncle Spiller says he gets down to work "before the man goes around to blow out the lights."

* * *

And Dad, he told 'em about the girl who ordered green lipstick. Said her man was a traffic cop.

* * *

Come on out and boost the fair. Make it yours. It's good clean entertainment for you and the family.

* * *

County fairs are hedged in tradition and have a swank and charm fit for a king's delectation. Picturesque tents and stands, alive with memories; wide groves and tracks. We need a little recreation, a little rest, a little fun. For it has been quiet and dry . . . as dry as Amos Woodcock's decanters . . . as the Congressional Record . . . as a pretzel . . . as an ostrich's ankle . . . as stubble . . . as Tantalus' lips . . . as a camel's knee . . as our own wit! Come out next week.

Has Lowest Tax Rate Per Acre In Virginia

Virginia Has Lowest Rate in Entire United States

Buckingham county has the lowest tax rate per acre of any county in Virginia and Virginia has one of the eight lowest per acre tax rates in the United States.

The per acre rate in Buckingham in 1930. Census year, as reported this week from Richmond, was $0.16. Appomattox county had $0.19; Campbell had $0.31; Charlotte $0.33; Cumberland $0.22, Bedford $0.35; whereas the high figure for the state went to Arlington county with a rate per acre of $10.44.

The rate per $100 full value of farm land and buildings in the federal census of 1930, was lower in Virginia than in any other of the forty-eight states. Virginia had an average per $100 full value of $0.68, while the average for the entire United States was $1.27. Texas had the second lowest rate of $0.83.

Buckingham county had an average tax rate per $100 full farm value, of $0.65; Appomattox had $0.79; Amherst $0.60; Bedford $0.81; Campbell $0.92; Charlotte $1.02; Cumberland $0.90. Brunswick had highest rate for the state with $1.40.

From these official sources it may be concluded that the burden of farm taxes is appreciably lower in Virginia than elsewhere and also that counties in this section of Virginia share among the lowest rates in Virginia.

Spends $4,500,000

JAMES H. RAND, Jr.

It's good business to buy now, according to James H. Rand, Jr., president and chairman of the board of Remington Rand, Inc., who has instructed his purchasing department to buy immediately $4,500,000 worth of raw materials and supplies for use this year. The order will affect employment in more than 20 different fields of production and was based, Mr. Rand said, on current prices of raw materials, many of which are the lowest in the company's 55 years of business history. In announcing his order to Secretary of Commerce Roy D. Chapin, the executive said, "I hope this will help to show that American business is ready to prove by action instead of word that it has the courage, foresight and faith to help 'turn the tide in the right direction.'"

This event, coupled with the opening daytime program of the Appomattox Fair will lure hundreds of people.

Boards of supervisors will head the delegation of road people here Wednesday. The highway body, with H. G. Shirley chairman, will hear all pleas and petitions from officials and citizens as to roads in their section.

While no public and formal entertainment has been announced for the highway commission and other visitors, it has been planned to have Higgin's fourteen piece band, playing at the fair all the week, entertain the crowd with a free concert during the lunch hour.

It is considered a compliment to Appomattox to be selected as the place for this hearing, since larger towns are usually chosen.

Mrs. Helen Welsch had the highest high school average attendance and Miss Mamie Inge the highest grade average, the later being the Pentecost school teacher. Liberty Chapel school had the highest percenage of five-point pupils last year.

Superintendent Burke urges parents to take advantage of the clinics in the couny to have their children examined. The prysical welfare of the pupil is a prime consideration and of the utmost importance. He also urges parents to procure text books at once so that work of the school year can get started.

Uses Wrong Sort Of Sign To Foil Local Officers

No one doubts the merits of advertising. Yearly millions and millions of dollars are spent by live-wire business men and houses who know that business worth having is worth asking for.

Yet, even advertising can be carried to the extreme. Take for example the case of Robert Sharp. He drove into Pamplin last Saturday with a tire cover upon which a large "boot" was painted over the, caption, "leg-ger".

Now bootlegging is one thing it doesn't pay to advertise, not when county officers are around, for deputy Duval Conner nabbed him and confiscated four pints of liquor, a hand machine gun and his automobile. Monday at Appomattox Judge W. L. Brown sent him on to the grand jury of the October court. In the meantime he is out on $500 bond.

Hutchinson flying family found.

Jimmy Walker sails for Europe.

Clinics Will Be Given; Dillwyn

Children of School Age Asked To Be Examined Now

Dillwyn, Sept. 14.—A clinic for adults conducted by a specialist of the State Health Department for the diaganosis of diseases of the chest in their earaly stages will be held in the Methodist church, in Dillwyn, for white people, on Friday, September 23. This clinic will be under the auspices of the County Board of Health and in cooperation with physicians of the county.

This clinic to be of the most value to the community should be attended by those who have lost relatives or friends with tuberculosis or who have lived for sometime in the house with a case of the disease. Tuberculosis is catching just like measles or smallpox, and many people havae the disease months before they call the doctor. Only 28 people will be examined during the day.

White people will be examined from 9 until 12, and colored people from 1 until 4. No person who is under 15 years of age will be admitted at these clinics. These examinations are free.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cates entertained Monday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 in honor of the birthdays of their two sons J. L. and Edward Scott, both of which came this week. Woolfolk assisted in serving.

The October term of the county court will convene here on Monday, October 3, and will face a fairly heavy docket of civil and criminal cases.

Efforts are being made to have Major A. Willis Robertson, nominee for Congress from the new Seventh district, to come here to make an address and formally open the speaking Democratic campaign in this section. If he can come on that date it will lure a large crowd.

H. M. Burge's large truck was partly burned Tuesday evening, catching fire from the motor. The efforts of the driver and by-standers proved effective in saving tires and body.

Plan Drive For Dem. Ticket

Burke Names Chairman For Drive in Each Precinct

A record-breaking majority in the november election for the Robertson-Flood ticket is the goal of Democratic forces in Appomattox county. The local "Roosevelt-Garner" club met here informally Monday night to lay plans for active work between now and election day and will meet again September 26.

Chairman for a drive in each precinct were named and they in turn select their fellow workers. The following local chairmen were named: J. W. Flood, old court house; W. W. Burke, Chap; S. L. For four big days and five big nights the Appomattox Fair will attract hundreds here next week. Starting Tuesday night and ending Saturday night, the program will call for a series of stellar performances, offering the public high-class entertainment.

The star top-notchers on the billing are Higgin's band, Conley's free open-air acts and Roland's concession and shows. Higgin's band recently played at Keller Fair and Newport News Fair. Conley's is fresh from successful engagements in Illinois.

Premium books and catalogs have been distributed widely in Appomattox and Buckingham counties and in Lynchburg. Those not having received one can get a copy at Chandler's Barber Shop here or from the fair management.

A large and elaborate premium list is offered and the exhibits will comprise a major part of the fair.

County Agent R. B. Hudgins offers his service free to farmers in selecting and preparing exhibits. See him between now and Tuesday evening and win some of the fine premiums.

This is the twentieth year of the Appomattox Fair. The commodious grounds are being put in shape this week and there will be ample parking space for automobiles and families are invited to come and spend the day. Admission prices this year are thirty-five for adults and fifteen for children. Wednesday school children will be special guests of the fair.

Conley's free acts will be presented at 2:30 and 8 P. M. Among the attractions in the free acts are Conley's comedy circus, composed of ponies, doys, monkeys in clever and wholesome tricks, diving, drills dances and acrobatic feats.

The Schoda Sisters will present an acrobatic specialty with tumbling, contortion thrilling jumps and physical convolutions. The Conley Trio will offer a daring act on 100-foot poles heralded as the highest foot and teeth revolution ever attempted.

Brownie, Silverlake and Co., will present a comedy novelty with a lady, gentleman and clown. Tom and Jerry offer a funny comedy revolving ladder act and the Three Circus Clowns follow with six different clown acts, on the stage, race track and in the grandstand. Brownie will give a rope-spinning act, ala Will Rogers. Several other numbers conclude the free acts.

Due to the fact that Lynchburg does not have a fair this year, considerable enthusiasm is being aroused there for the Appomattox Fair and scores are expected down each night.

The directors of the fair are sparing no effort to offer the public a bigger and better fair than ever before. Ben Caldwell, fair leader, declares, "Let's forget our worries for a week and come out and enjoy the fine program offered by the fair this year. We are doing everything possible to make the week enjoyable for our patrons and we will appreciate their support."
